Alvtus – Miroslavas 23,4 km Walking trip length ~6 hrs Route: Alytus–"Tarzanija"–Radžiūnai–Norūnai–Volungė

Alytus is the largest city in South Lithuania. It is a location well-known for its sport tourism attractions. In the written sources for the first time it was mentioned in 1377. On June 15th 1581, Magdeburg rights were granted to the city. In World War I, Alytus became the centre of the county. After the Wars of Independence (1918–1920), Alytus was the largest city and the regional centre of culture and education. In 1932, a resort status was granted to the city. Later, Alytus became one of the industrial centres.

If you take a trip from Alytus to Miroslavas, you may want to see the Angel of Freedom Monument in Alvtus, as well as the memorial "Relented Bell", City Garden, where 55 types of different trees grow, enjoy the cognitive trail of Vidzgiris botanical reserve, visit the Holocaust Memorial, climb Radžiūnai Hillfort, participate in entertainment programme in "Tarzanija" adventure park, relax tasting Dzūkian dishes at "Dzūkijos dvaras" (Dzūkija Mansion) in the village of Radžiūnai, admire Olakalnis with the Chapel in Bendres village and The Church of the Holy Trinity in Miroslavas.

Miroslavas–Meteliai – 22, 3 km Walking trip length ~6 hrs

Route: Miroslavas-Arciškonvs-Mociškėnai-Obelninkai Panėčiai–Meteliai

Miroslavas used to be mentioned from the end of the 17th century, it belonged to Bendres Mansion of king's table economy of Alytus. The town has a triangle-shaped square survived in the centre of the town, where markets and trading sessions used to take place. The Church of the Holy Trinity, built in 1929 as the previous one was blown up in World War I, adorns the streets of the town. Miroslavas today – the centre for eldership and neighbourhood.

If you go sightseeing from Miroslavas to Meteliai, you may want to visit the Church of the Holy Trinity in Miroslavas, go and see Papečiai Hillfort and visit another church – Meteliai Church of Transfiguration of Jesus Christ, a church with classical appearance with some Neo-Baroque features, as well as archaeological monuments of local value in Meteliai Regional Park, to climb the Meteliai Observation Tower and enjoy the view of Dusia and Meteliai lakes.

Meteliai village is situated in the picturesque neck 2 kilometres wide between Dusia and Meteliai lakes. The village has been known since 1508. In the 16th century, it belonged to the Simnas Mansion of the Grand Duke of Lithuania. Meteliai is an old village of fishermen famous even today for the fish caught in Dusia and Meteliai lakes and smoked in place.

Route: Meteliai-Bijotų Nature Trail-Chapel of Crosses-Staigūnai–Burakavas–Šventežeris–Teizai–Giraitė-Panarvė–

If you take a route from Meteliai to Lazdijai, you will come across the Meteliai Regional Park Visitors' Centre. Interactive expositions in the glazed facade building of the Visitors' Centre on the shore of Dusia lake will take by surprise many and provide with extraordinary emotions. In the Centre, both the adults and children will be engaged in various activity. In order to get to know pond turtles and their living conditions, find out what is worth seeing and rarely met in the Regional Park, you will have to open small drawers, doors or look into a hollow in the tree. Near the Meteliai Regional Park Visitors' Centre, a comfortable beach invites everybody to take a rest and relax in the neigh bourhood of the transparent lake Dusia, which has another name as well – the sea of Dzūkija.

After departing from Meteliai Regional Park, on the other shore of Dusia lake, the Chapel of Crosses sits surrounded by legends linked to the beginning of the Swedish war, in which Lithuanians were involved.

According to the story, in 1702, between the lakes Dusia and Meteliai, Lithuanian forces led by Hetman Mykolas Servacas Višnioveckis were deployed and stayed for some time. The aim of this stay was to prevent the Swedish army from coming to Grodno. Lithuanians, waiting for the enemy appearing, built three crosses in the place where the chaplain hold the holy Mass. On top of one of these crosses a copy of the picture of the Mother of God was hung. The warriors became aware of the Swedish army coming just by the end of St Mass. After the battle, the Swedes take over the settlement, still the picture of the Mother of God was hidden by the residents. After several years, in the same place, a veteran of this battle regained his sight, as he was blinded during the battle.

After the news about the miracle has spread, people started to gather in this place for prayers. It is believed that not only the picture of the Mother of God has miraculous power but the water of the spring nearby as well. Every year the feasts of Pentacost and St. Peter take place here.

At some distance from the Chapel, one of the most impressive and largest hillforts in Meteliai Regional Park rises - Prelomčiškė Hillfort. The hillfort is located on the left bank of Dusia lake, within 3.4 km from the Seirijai-Simnas road. Steep hillsides of the hillfort, up to 12 high, end up on the top as a large site. At the foot of the hillfort, a large Yotvingian settlement once stood, while a well-fortified wooden castle stood on the top of the hillfort. The summit of the hillfort overlooks a spectacular panoramic view towards Dusia lake. Every year, in July, people come here to the hillfort, to celebrate St Ann's day.

If you go sightseeing towards Lazdijai city, you will see the modernised Lazdijai Racecourse. Every year, on February 16th, international horse show jumping competition takes place here, as well as many other festivals of the District. Lazdijai city is the centre of District Municipality.

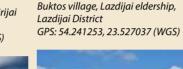

The name of the city of Lazdijai originates from the river Lazdija, crossing the city, on the banks of which the city was founded. According to specialists, 4-6 thousand years ago, people already lived in these places. In ancient times, a tribe of the Balts, similar to Lithuanians and Prussians, used to live here - Yotvingians. They were engaged in the plow-based agriculture, used to go fishing, hunting. The fact of Yotvingians' presence is confirmed by the names of settlements, rivers and lakes that have Yotvingian roots to them.

Upon arrival in Lazdijai city, you will visit Lazdijai St Ann's Church, a two-towered, Neo-Barogue forms building, rectangular in plan. After the visit, take a walk across the square named after Adolfas Ramanauskas-Vanagas just in front of the Church and honour the monument built in memory of this Man. Adolfas Ramanauskas-Vanagas is among outstanding Lithuanian personalities, the commander of partisans in Southern Lithuania region, a signatory to Declaration of 16 February 1949 of Lithuanian Freedom Fights Movement (LLKS) Council, the commander of the LLKS Defence Forces.

In addition, you may visit The Museum of Freedom Fights, where recollections of political prisoners, deportees, partisans, their liaisons, other residents are, as well as various other objects witnessing the fights for freedom 1944-1953 and all phases of deportations and imprisonment of Lazdijai land residents. At the Public Enterprise "Lazdijai Tourism Information Centre", everybody will find a souvenir to remember Lazdijai land.

Lazdijai-Seinai - 30 km Walking trip length ~8 hrs Route: Lazdijai–Seinai (Lenkija)

If you go on a trip from Lazdijai to Seinai (Poland), in the very centre of Lazdijai city, you will spot the Independence Monument. Then, you will be walking farther and come across the Lazdijai Land Museum in Seinai street that hosts numerous exhibits, such as descriptions of ethnographic objects, mansions and historical monuments, architecture of old times as well as various photographs. If you wish, you can take part in the lesson delivered by an actor and find out about the "exile" of the very young poet at that time, Salomėja Neris, in Lazdijai. This walking route will take you across Lazdijai City Park, where every first weekend in June, the largest festival of the Municipality takes place "The Borderland Feast". The next route - the hiking trail on the border, which has another name as well - "The Iron Curtain". In this location, the Soviet cordons of Pazapsiai, Reketija, Akmeniai and Galiniai were operating, while the first Lithuanian Customs used to be here as well. Travelling on the Poland's side, you will reach Seinai town.

The Way of Saint James is a 500-kilometre modern pilgrimage route running across Lithuania and joining the European international network of Saint James pilgrim trails.

The starting point is near Latvia-Lithuania border, from where the route extends across the counties of Šiauliai, Kaunas and Alytus and reaches Poland, where it merges into the Way of Saint James in Poland.

For the convenience of travelling pilgrims, the Way of Saint James has been divided into one-day stages, each about 25 km long, while the entire route consists of 20 stages.

The route is marked for pilgrims, making it easy to orientate. This route encompasses cultural, religion, nature objects – the ones approved by the Government of the Republic of Lithuania as the objects of the Way of Saint James. At all stops within the stages, the pilgrims and hikers are provided with accommodation, catering services and all other required infrastructure.

On the right bank of the river Nemunas, in Nemunas Loops Regional Park, a beautiful Punia town is situated. Punia in the written sources was mentioned for the first time in 1382. It is believed that on the top site of Punia hillfort, the castle of duke Margiris once stood. In 1336, in this place, the famous battle of Pilenai took place. Defenders of the Castle decided rather to die in flames than to surrender to the Crusaders and become captives. The Saint James the Apostle Church built in 1863 adorns the streets of this town.

If you go on a trip from Punia to Alytus, in Punia, you may want to visit Punia hillfort, St George's Chapel, an exposition "Punia Over the Centuries", taste Dzūkian potatoes dish bandos and pink pancakes in the Panemune Dzūkian hut, choose a route prepared by "Dzūkian Folks from Panemunė" Association and take a walk, go cycling, travel on a cart, travel in a carriage along the route chosen. Upon departure from Punia, you must provide yourselves with the water and snacks supplies to consume before you reach Alytus. In Raižiai, your attention will be attracted by a wooden mosque (telephone in advance to enter), a monument to Vytautas the Great, sundials (showing the local time and time on the fields of Grunwald), booked excursion and Tatar cake tasting with the Tatar community. In Alytus, you will have an opportunity to visit St Louis's Church, archaeological exposition of Alytus Regional Museum, the historical square of Alytus I, Alytus hillfort, the highest in Lithuania bridge for pedestrians and cyclists. At Alytus Tourism Information Centre, you will be able to obtain a Pilgrim's Passport to travel on the Way of Saint James, will learn about this land, sightseeing places, places to sleep, catering facilities and buy lots of souvenirs.
